

ATTORNEY ASSASSINATED.

Shot Down as He Stood in Court-house Door at Jackson, Ky.

Election Contest and a Feud Fought in the Case.

Lexington, Ky., May 4.—Just after he had finished filing papers, reopening the contested election cases of Breathitt county, James B. Marcum was shot and killed by an unknown assassin. He fell in his tracks in the front entrance of the courthouse at Jackson, Ky., and never spoke. death being almost instantaneous. He fell within a few yards of where Town Marshal James Cockrell was shot down in July, the assassin being stationed in the courthouse in each instance. Marcum was counsel for the fusionists, who are contesting for the offices of county judge, sheriff and other places now held by Democrats. As a result of his efforts and his sympathy with the Cockrell faction in the Hargis-Cockrell feud, he had for a year been generally regarded as a "marked man."

Various plots to assassinate him have been reported and sworn to in affidavits. For 72 days last fall he was a prisoner in his own home, daring not even to go out on his porch. The bitterness of the feud somewhat abated, however, and the election cases were allowed to sleep until Monday. Despite warnings, Marcum felt safe in resuming his interrupted practice some time ago, and felt secure in filing a motion to reopen the cases which had imperiled his life months before.

BIG MINE PRODUCTION.

AVERAGES ONE THOUSAND TONS DAILY.

On April 18 the No. 11 mine of the St. Bernard Mining Company, at this place, produced an output of 555 tons of coal. The product of this mine has been largely increased during the past few months and No. 11 is now in shape to average 1,000 tons daily. This output is expected to make further increase and it is the opinion of the miners who make this large daily tonnage that the Reinecke mine, now holding the record, will have to hump itself or it will lose the honor as the largest producing single mine in Kentucky. Some of the employees promise to make smashing records at mining and handling coal in the near future.

HEARTY NEW JERSEY MAN

Alleged to Have Two Cardiac Pumping Stations in His Anatomy.

Pateron, N. J., May 2.—John Firman, twenty-five years old, living here, has two hearts beating in his own breast. He is a fine specimen of physical manhood and constantly enjoys good health. In 1898 it was discovered that he had a double heart when he was examined for enlistment with the Second regiment at Pateron. Since then Firman has been more or less interesting to physicians.

An X-ray photograph shows the most peculiar heart formation the doctors of Pateron have ever seen or heard of.

In an engagement in Somaliland between the British forces and the Mad Mullah's forces, 2,000 of the latter are reported to have been killed.

The Soundness of Solomon.

(The Louisville Herald.)

The New York Sun sets forth an array of proverbs condemnatory of women. Proverbs are supposed to be the product of men grown wise by experience. But men often have a more retentive memory concerning their failures than of the good deeds done them by others. The man rejected by a beautiful woman may say with the Spanish proverb builder: "Were a woman as little as she is good, a pea pod would make her a gown and a hood." Or in the bitterness of the disappointment he may with the English seethsayer declare: "If a man lose a woman and a farthing he will be sorry he lost the farthing."

The French have a proverb that fits exactly the case of a disappointed fortune hunter: "A man of straw is worth a woman of gold." It was surely some old German widower who, having laid one wife in the grave, failed, for good reasons, to attract another, who said: "There are only two good women in the world—one dead and the other can't be found." It was a Scotchman, whose penuriousness robbed him of true wisdom, who averred: "Honest men marry soon, wise men never."

Nothing better could be expected from the barbarous Arab than: "Words are women, deeds are men." The Persians are even more unjust, but their barbarism tells its own tale. They say, for instance, that women and dragons are best out of the world. The Hindus, who till recently practiced human sacrifice, declare: "A man is not obeyed by his wife in his own house, nor does she consider him her husband, unless he beats her." It may have been from these dusky semi-savages that our half-civilized fathers got the cruel saying: "A woman, a dog and a walnut tree, the more you beat them the better they be." A Corsican bandit has afflicted posterity with this cold-blooded monstrosity: "Just as a good and a bad horse both need a spur, a good and a bad woman both need a stick."

What is the answer of woman, thus maligned and misrepresented, menaced and slandered? She turns in triumph to that grand old seer, statesman, king and prophet, Solomon, the wisest of men. So much wisdom did this sapient monarch possess that, having found one wife good, he never stopped marrying till he had a thousand. With such wide, varied and interesting experience of the sex it was that in the exuberance of gratitude and admiration he exclaimed that the value of the virtuous woman is "far above rubies."

His happy marital experience inspired him further: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good, and not evil, all the days of her life." As if this were not vindication complete and strong enough, Solomon adds: "Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land."

The truly wise man will quote no proverbs against woman. With the Solomon of old and a million of Solomons of today at her call, she can triumphantly put the proverbial folly of Persian, Hindu, Frenchman, Spaniard, Corsican or German to sleep.

With a bat-pin as her only weapon, Miss Mayme Andrews, of St. Louis, put to rout a highwayman who attempted to hold her up.

RAILROAD MEN'S VOTING CONTEST.

THE BEE is getting up a voting contest for the handsomest and the ugliest railroad man on the Henderson Division. Each new subscriber or each old subscriber who pays $1 for THE BEE for one year is entitled to 10 votes for either one. There will be two prizes. The first will be a handsome picture, 28 by 40 inches, framed, and worth $5. The second prize will be a handsome bound volume of Tennyson's complete works, also worth $5. Anyone who is now or may become a subscriber to THE BEE is entitled to 10 votes for each dollar paid in. The contest will close June 30, and the result of the voting will be made public from time to time in THE BEE. Send in your subscriptions this week and begin voting for your favorite by cutting out the blank votes published in each issue.

About Kentucky Women.

Kentucky women are among the loveliest in the world and renowned the world over for tact and gentleness as well as beauty and dash. They have been sought in marriage by Governors, Senators, Congressmen, Counts and Earls, and have in nearly every instance been the superiors of the men they have married. These Kentucky women have been the wives, mothers, sisters, daughters and sweethearts of the men who have made the laws, preached the gospel, healed the sick and fought the battles of the United States.—Birmingham, Ala., Ledger.

Beer Kegs Full of Coin.

(Philadelphia Telegram to the Chicago Chronicle.)

An express train bearing a consignment of what will appear to be beer kegs covered with red sealing wax and guarded by a squad of United States soldiers equipped with rifles will soon leave for New York. Each keg will hold $10,000 in silver coin for circulation in the Philippines. There will be 250 of these kegs, with a total of $2,500,000 in silver. At New York the kegs will be loaded upon a Government transport under a heavy guard of United States marines.

MORE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

WANT TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

Augustus E. Willson and Col. Morris B. Belknap, both of Louisville, are both in the race for the Republican nomination for Governor. Both are very able and popular gentlemen. This makes three entries thus far, Attorney General Clifton J. Pratt having announced his candidacy two weeks ago.

KILLED WHILE RESISTING ARREST.

Frank Cardinal Meets Death at White Plains Last Saturday.

Frank Cardinal, who lived near Madisonville, went to White Plains Saturday to have a settlement with a Mrs. Skaggs, of that place. During the conversation regarding the settlement Cardinal became very much angered and drew his pistol, threatening to shoot Mrs. Skaggs. She had a warrant issued for him and placed in the hands of F. O. Allison, city marshal. In the meantime Cardinal had mounted his horse and was leaving the place. Allison overtook him and demanded that he stop, as he had an order for his arrest. Instead of replying Cardinal opened fire on Allison, who dropped on his horse's neck and returned the fire without taking any special aim. Cardinal fell from his horse dead with a bullet hole just above the left nipple. Coroner Rogers, of Madisonville, was notified and held an inquest. The jury returned a verdict of "justifiable killing, as it was in self defense." The above are the facts in the case as related by Mr. Allison, who was here Monday. He also states that Cardinal, in conversation with Coroner Rogers, made the statement Friday that he, Cardinal, was going to White Plains the following day and kill someone or be killed himself.

Stockings and Gloves of Paper.

Paper gloves and stockings are now being manufactured in Europe. As to the manner in which the paper gloves are made little is known; but the stockings have been carefully examined by experts and they are loud in their praise of them. It is said they will last almost as long as ordinary stockings, owing to the fact that the paper of which they are made was, during the process of manufacture, transformed into a substance closely resembling wool, and was then woven and otherwise treated as ordinary wool.—New York Press.

MARION MCCORD DIES SUDDENLY

At the Residence of Ninon Gordon From Heart Failure.

Marion McCord, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCord, and a prominent contractor of this place, died suddenly at the home of Ninon Gordon last Thursday noon. He had eaten dinner and was conversing with his niece, Mrs. Gordon, when he complained of a pain around his heart. He had scarcely uttered the words before his head fell on the back of his chair and he sank into an unconscious condition. Mrs. Gordon at once summoned Dr. Mothershead but the patient died in a few moments after the doctor arrived.

Marion had had considerable domestic trouble lately and was recovering from a protracted spree. Dr. Mothershead had been attending him for several days and had spent a greater portion of the night of April 23rd with him and says that his heart was considerably affected. It has only been a short time since his wife left him and since that time McCord had been imbibing very freely up until three days before his death. He leaves three children, a boy and two girls by his second wife who will reside with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCord, of near this place.

He was 45 years old at the time of his death and when not under the influence of drink was a good citizen and a true friend, but like thousands of others he was his own worst enemy. The bereaved father and mother and his little children have the tender sympathy of their many friends.

The several rumors about regarding the manner of Mr. McCord's death or that he committed suicide are without foundation, as Dr. Mothershead, the attending physician, states positively that such was not the case.

The Railroad Hog.

All travelers are familiar with the sign in every railroad coach asking passengers to refrain from spitting on the floor. Another should be posted asking men, or more properly speaking, "hogs," to keep their feet off the seats. It's a common occurrence to see a man turn over the forward seat and place his mud-hooks on the plush covered seat, not only soiling the seat, but taking up the room of three passengers when he has only paid one fare. When you see a man do this you readily see him up as a selfish, filthy hog, who if he has any home, keeps it in the same condition that he is making the plush-covered seat. You may take the dirtiest hog from the pen, wash him carefully and put him in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, and he's still a hog. This same rule applies to people. If they have been raised in a filthy house, they will try to make their surroundings to correspond therewith.—Central Record.

Sticks to Kentucky.

The world has just realized the vastness of our State's mineral and other resources, and capital will come and invigorate it, strengthen it and build it up. Kentuckians have a State rich in everything that nature gives to mankind; it is the duty of Kentuckians to use those blessings to the best advantage—to do as others would do with them. Stick to Kentucky and you'll be glad of it.—Hodgenville Herald.

BOUGHT SHAMROCK.

St. Bernard Mining Company Has Purchased a Developed Property in Webster.

OWNS LAND AND WILL MAKE A LARGE MINE.

The purchase of the Shamrock mine by the St. Bernard Mining Company was consummated last week. Mr. E. G. Sebrer, for the St. Bernard company, went to Providence and completed the details of the transaction. The purchase price was $24,000, which covers the development and equipment, including about 100 acres of land fee simple. The mine has been producing coal in a small way for about four months. During the past year the St. Bernard has purchased land and mining rights in the vicinity of Providence and adjoining the Shamrock operation and has been prospecting to determine location for their proposed mine. In the mean time the Shamrock offered for sale and is now bought. Improvements will be put in and the mine developed so as to be a good producer for the next coal season. This latter statement is not made on authority, but the general reputation of the St. Bernard justifies it as a good guess.

ANOTHER NARROW ESCAPE

COUNTY IS NOT YET WRAPPED IN TROUBLE.

Madisonville, Ky., May 1.—Indications now are that a renewed attempt will be made at organizing the non-union coal miners in Hopkins county.

It has for some weeks been believed that the idea of renewing the fight, as was reported, this year had been abandoned, as all excitement caused by the rumor that John Mitchell would come and direct a strike in these fields, but from a movement that is now being made by the United Mine Workers of America, there is no doubt that the fight will be renewed within the next day or two.

Union Leader J. D. Wood, who directed the bloody fight in this section over a year ago, and other prominent labor leaders are billed to make labor speeches in this city tomorrow afternoon, and it is almost certain that following this will come trouble.

It has not been given out as yet as to whether or not National President John Mitchell will be here to direct the fight.

The only comment necessary is that there were no speakers and no speaking and there is no trouble.

Horse Dies.

Mrs. Wright, of Richland, was here Monday asking aid to buy a horse for her son, of that place. He was newly married and his horse, the only one he had to make a crop with, unexpectedly died. Mrs. Wright had several names on her list and no doubt the required amount will be made up.

Stick to Kentucky.

The world has just realized the vastness of our State's mineral and other resources, and capital will come and invigorate it, strengthen it and build it up. Kentuckians have a State rich in everything that nature gives to mankind; it is the duty of Kentuckians to use those blessings to the best advantage—to do as others would do with them. Stick to Kentucky and you'll be glad of it.—Hodgenville Herald.

ST. BERNARD MINING CO.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact any ailment connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a small bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25c size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store.

Earlington News Co. Changes Hands.

George Toy has purchased the stock and outfit of the Earlington News Company from W. H. Borders and will now handle it in connection with the barber shop, laundry, ice plant and various other enterprises. Browning News will be manager of the news company and deliver papers promptly while you wait.

La Grippe, colds in the head, toothache, headache, neuralgia, nervous excitement, caracine, inflammation of the heart, are all easily cured by Hills' Headache Tablets. They are not far from giving instant relief, once tried will always win the good will of the who tries them. Price 25c; for sale by all retail medicine dealers in the country.

Will Phillips, the genial and jovial assistant cashier of the Earlington Bank has a tender heart, as will be seen from the following incident. A half starved dog was lying across the street from the bank and Will, after contemplating the dog in silence for some time, conceived the idea that the aforesaid dog was hungry. This idea so completely possessed him that he could neither work nor rest until he had secured the hind leg of a cow and placed it before the nose of the astonished dog. The dog wagged his tail and licked his chops, saying as plain as possible, "thank you."

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again," writes D. H. Turner of Dampscroft, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never grip. Only 25c at St. Bernard Drug Store.

Fish Are Biting.

Union Organizer Arrested.

Evansville, Ind., May 6.—John Dean, a miner prominent in Southern Indiana labor circles, and an organizer of unions of some note, was taken to Boonville, Warrick county, this morning by an officer. Dean was arrested here on a charge of embezzling money, the complaint being made by the coal miners' union at Boonville. About $100 is said to be involved.

Caution:

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles with out losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boechie's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough and cold remedies that it is hard to choose one that is good and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe colds, Croup, and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing day and night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25c size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store.

Card of Thanks.

Death visited our family and claimed the only child we had on earth. We will always feel thankful for the many deeds of kindness and sympathy extended by friends during his last hours of illness and death; to the many kind friends, both of Earlington and Madisonville, who came forward voluntarily during his last hours of illness. His many friends have our sincere gratitude for the faithful attention and their devoted kindness to the stricken family in this sad hour of affliction and bereavement and we fully assure them that their unselfish kindness is highly appreciated and will ever be held in fond remembrance by surviving relatives. We desire to extend acknowledgments and take this method of doing so. Those Christian deeds of kindness will ever be remembered with pleasure and gratitude by our selves and family. Our desire is that God may bless them all.

MORE FAKE DISPATCHES.

There is a note of promise to be found in an article bearing the title of "Fake Specials," which appeared in the Madisonville Hustler of last Friday. For some time past, as The Bee has several times called to the attention of the public, Madisonville and surrounding territory has been systematically victimized by the sensational and often ridiculous reports that have been sent out from that place, apparently by some fledgling of a reporter who seemingly did not mean to lie outright but was simply unable to recognize a plain fact when he met it in the road. The identity of this reporter or of these reporters is unknown to us, and our estimate of them was and is made wholly upon the character and composition of their special dispatches, which is illustrated by the following dispatch sent from Madisonville last week:

Suicide By Poison.

Madisonville, Ky., May 1.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion McCord was the scene of a horrible suicide yesterday afternoon when the young husband suicided by poisoning himself. Why this rash act of Mr. McCord was committed is not known, and an investigation is being made. He was an insurance agent.

This dispatch made Mr. McCord a citizen of Madisonville, a young man and an insurance agent, and stated in positive terms that he suicided by taking poison. The facts are, as published in this paper today that Mr. Marion McCord was a long time resident of Earlington, a well known and competent contractor and builder, a man of middle age and that he did not commit suicide. His death was sudden and out of a chance remark grew a rumor that he might have taken poison; but there were no facts to back up the rumor and no steps were taken toward making any investigation. His death simply followed a period of hard drinking and ended the life of a man of large native ability, eminently competent in his chosen vocation, whose better self had many friends and was in turn a bearer of staunch and loyal friendship.

But the Madisonville Hustler puts a different and a more serious phase upon the work of these fake correspondents and says that many alleged news items sent out from that place are fabrications and "absolutely without any foundation whatever."

There has been enough of this false and irresponsible "news" reporting from the county seat in the past two years, during which time matters of large moment were at times daily and viciously misrepresented. It is high time to call a halt and to insist that Hopkins county affairs, even personal and trivial, be reflected in conscientious and painstaking work on the part of the reporters for the press.

The Bee has been first to lead in this protest and is ready at all times to do all in its power to have Hopkins county correctly and creditably reported to the outside world. It is time that news editors of the dailies were investigating.

Mrs. Drusella Wellford was convicted at Memphis of the murder of C. W. Dewey March 5.

That man exchange says some good things occasionally and here is one of them: "A newspaper is like a man because it reflects the sentiments of some man, and it should be judged on a broad plan. No man lives a perfect life; no editor prints a perfect paper. If an editor is honest he is bound to offend some one every week of his life, if he never offends he must be of the namby-pamby sort, who cater to all sides and never amount to anything. The same thing is true of the average man. A newspaper is necessarily compelled to make some mistakes. In getting the news it has to take hearsay in a great many instances and try as they may to be accurate some errors will creep in. But the paper that gives the news impartially week after week and year after year, the paper that stands for decency and honesty, speaks well of those who try to do good and condemns fraud and dishonesty in every form, is a good paper."

The Kentucky Institution for the education of the Blind is one of the institutions that is little known by the people of Kentucky. It teaches such crafts as can be mastered by the blind and makes life vastly brighter for those who sit in such dark places. The Kentucky Institution is in first rank with such schools in the United States.

The notorious Hearst of the New York Journal is enjoying an outing in California while his lawyers are busy worrying the presidents of the coal carrying roads by the use of the interstate commerce laws. These busy officials are kept under subpoena for days and their affairs interfered with as much as possible. Mr. Baer has again distinguished himself as a great business man and a great lawyer during his examination before the commission.

Prize fighting is again enjoying the protection of the law in Louisville, under decision rendered by Judge Asher Caruth Saturday last. An attempt upon the part of prominent attorneys and gentlemen of that city to prevent the fight between Kid Broad and Benny Yanger met defeat and the fight was pulled off that night at the Auditorium. Aaron Kohn and his partners were attorneys for the pugs.

A REVELATION TO ALL

Dedication of the World's Fair Opened the Eyes of All Visitors to the Magnitude of the Exposition.

Though Kentucky was not represented officially by its State Government at the dedication of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis last week, there was a good sprinkling of residents of the Blue Grass State at the ceremonies, the Kentucky Exhibit Association having sent over a good delegation of officers, members and committeemen. Every visitor from this Commonwealth found what has been said in these columns for the past few months to be absolutely true, that is, that the Exposition will be the greatest in the history of nations.

The tour of the grounds after the military parade gave the visitors from Kentucky an idea of the magnitude of the undertaking, at whose head is a former Kentuckian—Gov. David Rowland Francis, born in Madison county.

LODGE QUARTERS CHANGED.

All the Secret Organizations Are Out of Masonic Temple Except Masons.

OLD HALL TO BE NICELY DECORATED.

This week marks the beginning of occupancy of the Masonic Temple lodge quarters by the Masonic bodies only. The original purpose of the Masons was, that when the time should come that they could afford to do so they would use their halls for their own purposes exclusively. Later the work of Blue Lodge, Chapter and Commandery has been so constant and vigorous and these bodies have so grown that the Masons concluded the time had come to make the change.

The Knights of Pythias, Ancient Order of United Workmen, Golden Cross, Macabees, Odd Fellows and Redmen are now all in the Masonic Hall, which is in the course of renovation. It was in this old building that all the secret orders lived for years, until the Temple was built.

Work on the Hall outside and in will now be pushed and the house be made as attractive as may be. The organizations now in that building number six and will occupy every night in the week.

Charlie Webb Entertains.

Charlie Webb entertained a number of his friends at the residence on Sebree avenue Tuesday night. Flinch progressive was the game and some of the most rapid playing ever witnessed in Earlinton took place there. The invited guests, eighteen in number, were all flinch players and were out to win by fair means. Strange to say, there was no one accused of cheating and no one lost their temper. It was a good, smooth game and thoroughly enjoyed. After playing eight games refreshments, consisting of ices and strawberries were served, and it is needless to add, greatly enjoyed. After refreshments the accompaniment host, assisted by his brother, gave the guests several well executed pieces on the violin and piano. Mrs. Lizzie McGary then rendered several charming selections, which were enjoyed. Tommie Trahern was called on for an after-supper speech and responded in his usual flowing style. The irrepressible Walter McGary also favored the crowd with a flowery and eloquent effusion that caused a great deal of hilarity and enjoyment. The following guests were present:

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McGary, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fawcett, Brick Southworth, Tom Trahern, Jas. Moreland, D. Drake, Misses Anna Rice, Annie Ashby, Georgia Wyatt, Laura Stoddard, Nannie Browning, Maud Slaton, of Madisonville, Calif. Drake, and Ole Sawyer.

Had an Exciting Time.

The party who were fishing in Pond river Tuesday had some thrilling experiences in crossing the river on raft logs and submerged limbs. Dr. Sisk came near losing his life when he was nearly submerged in an attempt to locate the middle of his raft. Elmer Orr came a log across the raging stream with the agility of a tight rope walker but when he stepped back when he came to a submerged limb no larger than a man's arm and over five feet of water. They eventually accomplished their object and crossed the river but not without getting slightly damp.

THE WEATHER AND CROPS.

The Outlook as Indicated by the Weather Bureau's Weekly Crop Bulletin.

GROWTH RETARDED BY COLD WEATHER.

Early-planted corn has been extensively killed and fruits have suffered. Wheat, which was to have escaped any very material injury.

Washington, May 6.—The weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin is as follows:

The week ending May 4 was unusually cool over much of the greater part of the country, the minimum temperatures on April 30 and May 1 and 2 being the lowest recorded in the past 50 years at nearly all weather and bureau stations from the central Missouri valley, and also at a number of stations in the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys, lake region and New England. The high temperatures were also low, and the high rainfall or absence of rain has been favorable for farming operations, but the unseasonably low temperatures have checked the growth of corn, cotton and heavy frosts and freezes have caused much damage. Drought has been relieved over southeastern Texas and over limited areas in the central gulf state, but continues over the greater part of the last mentioned districts and in northern Texas, and rain is needed in Florida. Notwithstanding the decidedly cool weather during the latter part of the week, the temperatures in the highland and portions of the middle Atlantic states and lake region averaged about the normal. Rain is generally needed on the Pacific coast.

The early-planted corn was extensively killed by the freeze during the latter part of the week, and the report from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and the crop has suffered from cold weather throughout the southern states. Preparations for planting have progressed favorably in the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states, but still progress has been made in the upper Missouri valley and lake region. The present season to date has been very unfavorable for corn, planting being greatly delayed.

Wheat wheat appears to have escaped material injury during the recent freeze over the western portion of the winter wheat region, and the general outlook for the crop continues very promising, although a slight deterioration is indicated in portions of the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys. On the Pacific coast the outlook is less favorable, especially in California.

Very little seedling of spring wheat could be done over the northern portion of the spring wheat region during the week, and the report indicates that no serious damage has been done to early sown over the southern portion. On the north Pacific coast the crop is now in need of rain.

Oats sustained more or less injury from cold in the states of the Missouri valley and around growth generally reported in the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Decreased average is reported from Illinois, Indiana and western states in Ohio. Early planted cotton on low lands in northern Texas and Oklahoma was killed by the freeze of April 30 and May 1, and throughout the cotton belt low temperatures have proved seriously detrimental in retarding germination and growth, and the drought continues in northern Texas and in the central gulf states.

Nearly all fruits have suffered from the damage from frosts and low temperatures, apples having apparently escaped with the least injury.

THE COTTON CROP OF 1902.

Washington, May 6.—The census of rice has made public the final figures of cotton production obtained from the reports of cotton ginners. The quantity of cotton ginned from the growth of 1902, exclusive of linters, amounted to 11,078,842 running bales, as pressed at the ginners' equal to 10,630,945 bales of a 500-pound standard or, counting round bales as half-bales, 10,558,220. During the four years covered by the ginning reports of the census office the average crop exclusive of linters has been 9,902,277 bales of a 500 pounds. The crop of 1902 shows an increase of 728,668 bales over the average, while the crops of 1901 and 1900 show a decrease of 556,000 and 284,332 bales, respectively. For the crop of 1902 there has been a general increase in all the states both east and west of the Mississippi river, with the exception of Alabama and Texas. Drought in Alabama and drought and the boll weevil in Texas are responsible for the losses in those states.

St. Xavier Found Dead.

St. Xavier, Ind., May 6.—Ex-convict Francis was found dead on the banks of the Ohio river. He was a native of Ohio and had been in the state prison for several years. He was found floating in the river and was taken to the hospital, but died before he could be revived.

Former Chief Justice Dead.

St. Louis, Mo., May 6.—Armand Cole, chief justice of the Wisconsin supreme court, died at the residence of his son, Sidney J. Cole, in this city. He was 70 years of age and had been a member of the Wisconsin supreme court for 15 years.

THE DRAUGHT'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If very constipated suffer from indigestion, headache, nervousness, colic and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. The Draught's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in a easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original Draught's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 boxes.

Worcester, Mass., May 31, 1901. I cannot recommend Draught's Black-Draught too highly. I have used it in my family all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never give my children any other laxative. I think I could not do so without being troubled with constipation. I have tried many other laxatives but Draught's Black-Draught is the only one that keeps me in good health.

STOP SHOOTING.

Laws Severe Against Slaughter of All Birds and No Open Season Now.

COMPLAINTS FROM LOCH MARY.

THE BEE regrets the necessity of calling attention this season to shooting about Loch Mary, but numerous complaints are heard and there is physical evidence that they are justified by facts.

There is every reason why shooting about the lake should not be indulged in at all. It is prohibited by the owners of the property. A portion of the lake is within the city limits. Shooting there is dangerous to the persons of the many who go there for fishing or outing, and the banks of Loch Mary are a favorite resort. For all of these reasons and more this form of thoughtless sport is wrong, is unlawful. There is a rigid law against shooting on the public highways. The shooting that is complained of is far more dangerous.

And at this particular season of the year there is nothing to shoot at lawfully. Fortunately the laws of Kentucky protect with severe penalties every little feathered songster and insectivorous bird that flies. There is no "open season" for the slaughter of these. They may not be killed or captured at any time. For the pleasure of sportmen there is an open season for all game birds and animals. But now those seasons are closed and guarded by the laws of the state against the wanton destruction of the small remnant of splendid game left in this country. Thus both the species and sport are preserved.

There is another serious depredation that has been committed there. Some irrepressible savage has used the lock of the boat house door as a target and his bullets passed through and punctured holes in a valuable row boat kept there.

The BEE suggests that if witnesses will only report a few cases to the authorities this unlawful target practice will be stopped in short order.

EARLINGTON VS. MADISONVILLE.

Contest for the Supremacy of Flinch Players of Earlinton and Madisonville Will Take Place.

IN THE OPERA HOUSE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Earlington and Madisonville will play flinch and will play to a finish. Sixteen of Earlinton's best players and a like number from Madisonville will engage in a series of games at the opera house, this place, in the near future, to decide which of the two towns is the best at the popular game. Four judges from each place will be selected to decide all questions arising and there will be no appeal from their decision. Rules will be drawn up for this contest. The judges and players for Earlinton have already been selected and their names and those of the Madisonville contestants will be published in the next issue of THE BEE.

Several Earlinton parties are making their arrangements to go to Green river about the 1st of June and camp out a week or two. If all the parties who are now talking of going the banks of Green river will be thickly settled for quite a distance.

LAW DOES NOT TAX PRIVATE BOARDING HOUSES.

Bill Passed by Last Legislature Charges $10 Annually For "Hotels and Taverns."

BOARDING HOUSES NOT MENTIONED.

It has been told abroad in Hopkins county this week that a law passed by the last Legislature had been unearthed which levies a tax of $10 on all boarding houses, and that Judge Gordon presiding over the court which convened at Madisonville Monday had called attention of the grand jury to this law. To the end that it be enforced.

No little uneasiness has been occasioned on the part of many keepers of small, private boarding houses in the county by this rumor, and some severe denunciation of the law making power has been indulged in. All of this would be fully justified if the report were true that such a law is on the statute books. For no more absurd or oppressive proposition can be imagined than that of a tax on the helpless widows and other humble and needy keepers of small boarding houses throughout the State should be required to pay for the privilege of adopting so very uncertain a means of support.

But the report is not true. The law does not mention boarding houses. It specifies "Hotels and Taverns," but does not define them. There are of course, cases about which a question may reasonably be raised. And equality of course certain lawyers will have something to quibble over in a small way. But the law was evidently not meant to levy a tax on the small, private, boarding house and an effort upon the part of any lawyer to stretch the measure as to burden that class of people in such a manner would fall heir to the severe and deserved condemnation at the hands of the public.

CIRCUIT COURT

THE TERM WILL BE VERY BUSY.

The May term of the Hopkins county court convened in Madisonville Monday with Judge Gordon on the bench and Attorney J. F. Gray on present for the state. Circuit Clerk Oatlin is confined to his room with measles and cannot be present. His duties are being discharged by John T. Redding. The following is a list of grand jurors selected for this term of court: M. P. Reynolds, Charles Coffman, Willis Gooch, Ben Franklin, Henry Whitfield, Chas. Wyatt, Lawrence Rodgers, Sam Cox, Jonah Tippet, Burr Morton, Field Rice and John P. Reedy.

There are 140 prosecutions pending on this docket. The most important cases for this term are the following:

Same vs. Davis Pritchett, false swearing.

Fifth day—Same vs. James Jarrett, burglary.

Same vs. Garth Thompsons, willful murder.

The petit jury was empaneled Tuesday.

An attempt to reorganize the Box or movement in China was stopped by the heading of a number of the rebels.

JUDGMENT SUSPENDED.

Sixty Days Given by Judge Cantrill to Take Appeal in Howard Case.

AFFIDAVITS FILED BY BOTH SIDES.

Frankfort, Ky., May 2.—Jim Howard was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Franklin Circuit Court to day and at once prayed an appeal to the Court of Appeals. Affidavits were filed by the attorneys for the defense from W. L. Grody, H. F. Johnson and A. J. Woodford. These affidavits stated that prior to the trial they heard Jurors Renshaw and Neale perjure the case, expressing a belief in Howard's guilt, and say that if they were summoned on the jury they would hang him. Other affidavits were filed that Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin and his assistant counsel, Mr. Campbell, had referred to evidence of the previous trials.

Counter-affidavits were filed by the Commonwealth's Attorney.

Judge Cantrill suspended judgment sixty days to take the appeal, and ordered Howard sent back to Georgetown, where he will remain in the Scott county jail pending the appeal.

The case of Cabel Powers, to be called at Georgetown next week for a third trial, may be continued until a special term, in July or August.

GEORGE ADE'S LATEST JOKE.

(Lafayette, Ind., telegram to the New York World.)

George McCutcheon, author, and George Ade, author of the "Sultan of Sulu," attended the wedding here of Miss Bertha Stimpson and Edgar S. Miller, brother of the Assistant Secretary of the Interior. Before leaving Chicago Mr. Ade had a lot of handbills printed, calling attention to the wedding. These handbills were kept under cover by him until Mr. and Mrs. Miller were comfortably seated in a Big Four car, waiting to start for Washington on their wedding trip.

He and McCutcheon boarded the train and passed through it from end to end, seeing that every passenger had one of the little bills, which contained the following postscript: "The bride is a niece of M. E. Ingalls and rides on a pass, but the bridegroom will have to pay his fare."

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were unconscious of the joke that had been played on them until they saw the unusual attention paid them by the passengers.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank my many friends in Earlington for the comfort and sympathy to me during my sad trial and suffering last week, caused by the death of my dearly beloved husband. I will never forget their kindness to me and mine during the darkest hour of my life and I hope and trust that the Lord in His wisdom and mercy will raise up friends to comfort them in their afflictions as warm and true hearts as my friends in Earlington have proven to be.

The Worry of Money.

The troubles of the rich received a forcible illustration in a recent conversation between Senator Clark, of Montana, and one of his friends. The Senator said that he had once received from an English syndicate an offer of $80,000,000 for his mining property.

"Why didn't you take it?" asked his friend.

"I want to live a little longer," was the ambiguous answer.

"What do you mean?"

"Well," said the Senator slowly, "it may seem strange to you, but if I had sold out for $80,000,000 I wouldn't be alive today. I firmly believe. Just think what it means to invest $80,000,000! All the work and worry suffered by all mankind since the death of Adam would not be equal to the work and worry involved in trying to invest that amount and invest it right. No, sir; I want to live, and I declined the job. I'm too old for work like that."

A Bit of Howell Shop Philanthropy.

A certain well-to-do employee in the car department at Howell, who, for the sake of convenience, we will call A. S., as those are the initials of his full name, has been coming to work for some time wrapped in a very ragged coat, which, however, served the purpose of keeping the cold from his back, as well as serving his fellow-workmen as a fitting object to joke and have all manner of fun about. Of course all this joking was done in the presence of A. S., but he continued to wear his ragged coat in spite of it, until one day last week, when the boys decided to open their hearts and buy him a new coat. They wanted it presented in style and accordingly selected T. D. L. to make a speech for the occasion at noon hour. After the boys had eaten their dinner the speaker, with a bundle under his arm, stepped on a block of wood and after the manner of an experienced orator, although he stammered a little, addressed the audience of merry folk before him as follows:

"Gentlemen: That there is more of the milk of human kindness existing in the Howell car shop to the square inch than in any other spot of the same dimensions within a thousand miles of us, has been demonstrated time and time again. (Applause) All this grand talk of Carnegie and his libraries, and all other great philanthropists, who hold the attention of our nation today, are cast into the shade and dwindle into insignificance, when compared with the broad generosity of men who work in this department. (Applause) Heretofore, gentlemen, we have confined our charities to assisting those among us who have met with great misfortunes, of one kind or another, or relieving the wants of the widows and orphans. But this vein of human kindness I have just mentioned, which seems to have reached its greatest depth and breadth in our shop, has broadened its field, and has taken upon itself the loving task of clothing the naked and the ragged, as well as feeding the hungry, and that this new departure may be fittingly inaugurated today, I have been commissioned to present to the raggedest man in the shop a brand new coat, and if Mr. A. S. will kindly step forward and receive it, my commission will have been finished." (Loud and continued applause as A. S. steps forward.)

Engineer Baker is on the sick list this week and has gone home for a few days.

Fireman Mansfield of the chain gang service is also on the sick list.

Our esteemed fellow citizen, W. G. Wright, has returned from Italy and is again a railroad man. He has accepted his old position at the round house with Foreman O'Brien, and it is hard to distinguish which is the better pleased Walter or Mr. O'Brien. That Walter Wright is popular with the railroad men will be seen from the number of votes he has to his credit in the votive contest for the handsomest railroad man on this division.

The railroad men's voting contest is progressing finely. W. G. Wright, the popular clerk for Mr. L. H. O'Brien, is in the lead for the handsomest man and Conductor Joe Fortner has 40 for the ugliest man on the Henderson division.

Morris Lenthall, who has been an employee of the L. & N. here for several years, has accepted a position with the Southern at Princeton, Ind. Morris has made many friends during his residence here and they all wish him success in his new home.

Cheap homes in Texas and Arkansas.

Along the Cotton Belt Route—land that can be bought for $2.00 to $5.00 an acre and up—cut-over timber land that makes good grazing land for the year, farming land for corn, wheat, oats, cotton—some of it particularly adapted to quick growth and early maturity of fruits and vegetables, such as peaches, pears, apples, strawberries, tomatoes, potatoes, onions, cabbage, melons—finding good markets in the north at fancy prices, on account of excellence of quality and earlier maturity than in other sections. An ideal place for the man of small means—cheap fuel, cheap building material, long growing seasons, short, mild winters—a land of sunshine and plenty. Let us send you literature descriptive of this country.

"Homes in the Southwest," "Glimpses of Southeast Missouri, Arkansas and N. W. Louisiana," "Through Texas with a Camera," "Fortunes in Growing Fruits and Vegetables," "The Diversifier," a fruit and nut grower's journal. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Cotton Belt Route will sell one-way tickets from St. Louis, Thebes, Cairo and Memphis, to points in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, at half the one-way rate plus $2.00 or round trip tickets at one fare for the round trip plus $2.00, allowing stopovers en route, and return limit of 21 days.

The Editor Was Kind.

A certain man died in Texas not long ago, says the Galveston News, leaving fourteen years of subscription due a local paper. The editor of the paper attended the funeral, and just before the lid of the coffin was screwed down for the last time, he placed a linen duster, a thermometer and a palm leaf fan on the remains of the unlamented dead. Although editors are not accustomed to accumulate riches, they always seem to be kind and considerate.

Mrs. Marshall Dodge, the 21-year-old wife of a coal miner, was killed and three men were injured in a shooting affray at a dance in Bay City, Mich.

The Homestead mill produce, with about 4,000 men, three times as much steel as the Krupp works produce with 15,000.

There will be three subdivisions on tobacco, as follows: The barley type, H. M. Froman, Ghent; the dark export type, Samuel R. Ewing, Owensboro; the "purchase" types, Judge T. T. Gardner, Bardwell. Major David Cassin of Pleasant Hill is to look after the hemp display. On garden products, the services of Clarence Sale of Louisville have been secured.

Dr. P. W. Poole of Irvington will give the exhibit the benefit of his wide experience in silos and forage plants. A deal of space is to be devoted to novelties, and the Hon. J. W. Kennedy of Union will look after them.

The association has secured 5,000 square feet of space in the Agricultural building for its general agricultural display. This is exclusive of 5,000 square feet to be given Kentucky tobacco, which will be in charge of a special exhibit committee appointed for the purpose, and 2,000 square feet for whisky, also in charge of a special committee. On Col. Nall's committee there are two members who will look after the horticultural and horticultural display. The former is M. F. Johnson, President of the Kentucky Horticultural society, and the latter Henry Nanz of Louisville. Col. Nall has had a reservation of 3,000 square feet of space made for these two displays in the Horticultural building.

In his latest circular of instructions Col. Nall calls upon the county committees, the total membership of which amounts to 432, to collect complete exhibits in all classifications.

For the grains he gives the following specific instructions:

Corn—Early stalk, 10 in. number, with husk, ears and tassels complete; ears, 10 in. number; shelled, one-third gallon in strong cotton bag. The varieties shown shall be white, yellow, red, mixed, popcorn, kafir corn, etc.

Wheat—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with wire or wire; threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bag; should be shown in every variety grown in the state. The macaroni and Elmer wheat should be shown.

Oats—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with wire or wire; shelled, one-fourth bushel in cotton bag. Black, white, mixed, winter and every other variety.

Rye—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with wire or wire; threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bags. White, black and any other variety known to be grown in the state.

Buckwheat—Sheaf, nine inches;

As to silos and forage plants, it is announced that an effort will be made to secure a large glass tube in which to exhibit silage. The leguminous plants useful for forage and hay will be gathered under this department.

One of the features of the agricultural display will be the display of novelties. Every freak of nature is to be shown, from the largest pumpkin and the twin ear of corn to the stalk with the most ears at all. The native wild products are to find a place here, such as nuts, grapes, pawpaws, and black and red wax.

Mr. Johnson is determined that the horticultural display at the exposition shall equal that of any state in the Union. He is now in an effort to secure a continuous display of fruits in season during 1904, but not to rely too much on next year, he is planning to secure some of the finest specimens and keep them in glass for the fair. Some of the best samples of the late apple crop will be preserved in cold storage.

Perhaps the most beautiful part of the entire exhibit will be that to be shown in the direction of Mr. Nanz. As one of Louisville's leading florists, he has some strikingly original ideas for the floral display.

CONTEST IN THE AIR.

Unique as an attraction will be the exhibits of airplanes, balloons, gliding machines and kites at the St. Louis World's fair. No such display has ever been attempted at any exposition.

The aeronautic contest has caused this widespread interest that even at this date its success is assured. Santos-Dumont, Sir Hiram Maxim, Professor Langley and other inventors of international fame are busily engaged perfecting new crafts with which to navigate the air in the races scheduled for 1904. Out in the branches an entire block of land is tenanted by persons who are building an immense airship in which they propose to fly to St. Louis. Several machines resembling balloons but in appearance are being constructed near Bridgeport, Conn., and at Frankfort, N. Y., there is a balloon farm where experiments are being made with a number of new flying contrivances.

The Chief of Transportation Exhibits is in correspondence with more than 250 persons who are contemplating participation in the contest. No inventor can compete for the grand prize of $100,000 who cannot give satisfactory proof that he has made a flight over at least a mile course and return.

This great race will be over a 10-mile course shaped like a letter "L" which will be marked at the turns by captive balloons, and the prize will be awarded to the competitor or competitors who average speed during three trips shall be the greatest.

Many other prizes have been offered. One of $2,500 is for the flying machine carrying an operator which will make the fastest straightaway run of one mile and return. Two thousand dollars for the best machine mounted by an operator, which shall advance at a vertical angle most acute with the horizon. Two prizes are offered for the best airplane.

Four prizes of $5,000 each will attract balloonists as well as airship inventors. One is for the greatest altitude attained; the second for the longest time in air; the third is for the aerostatic landing nearest the Washington monument, the start being made from the exposition grounds, and the fourth is for the longest journey in any direction, starting from the exposition grounds.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.

Planning For Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibits.

EVERYTHING GROWN TO BE SHOWN

"Chairman Johnson Hopes to Make a Display of Fruit That Will Open the Eyes of World's Fair Visitors—A Special Committee For Every Classification.

Kentucky, since its invasion by Daniel Boone, has been known as an agricultural state in which could be grown anything that would thrive elsewhere in Uncle Sam's country.

While this fact is so generally known, the Kentucky Exhibit association has determined to make it better known to the thousands that will attend the World's fair in St. Louis next year. It has placed in charge of the collection of its agricultural display Col. Ion B. Nall, the State Commissioner of Agriculture, and Colonel Nall has surrounded himself by a committee thoroughly expert in their different departments. In a circular issued this week by Col. Nall to the 112 subcommittees in Kentucky, instructions are given for preparing this display.

"As the exhibit at St. Louis must be uniform in itself and conform to the requirements of the World's fair officials as to awards, etc., it is necessary," states Col. Nall, "that samples from each county shall be of the same dimensions as far as possible."

Col. Nall has divided the general exhibit into classes and placed at the threshold, one-fourth bushel in cotton bags.

He includes under grasses everything grown in the state, whether for meadow, pasture or forage, including the following: Orchard grass, timothy, blue grass, orchard grass, herds grass, red top, Bermuda grass, crab grass, sorghum, etc.

He also hopes to exhibit growing tobacco plants from next year's crop. Destructive insect pests of tobacco will also be exhibited.

Hemp is to be shown in all stages, from seed to list. An old-fashioned break will be taken over to the exposition and an exhibition of breaking hemp given by the champion breaker of 1903, whoever this may be. Hemp breakers with good records should do best this year and receive this honor.

Col. Nall hopes to make a display of the old way of hemp manufacture. He has called for samples of 1904 Col. Nall wants to see packages, and samples of bundles eight inches in diameter at the middle.

No instructions are given at this time as to the preparation of the garden products exhibit, as it is the purpose of Mr. Sale to show the greater part of this display from the crop of 1904. Col. Nall wants to see the best of every kind gathered this year and preserved in such quantities as may be thought advisable. He throws in the rather encouraging sentence: "The growing of seeds for market can be profitably done in this state. There are some in which we lead."

As to silos and forage plants, it is announced that an effort will be made to secure a large glass tube in which to exhibit silage. The leguminous plants useful for forage and hay will be gathered under this department.

One of the features of the agricultural display will be the display of novelties.
